The final round of Currency Twist – Finance Club Activity was held on 3rd October 2025 at The Oxford College of Business Management. The round witnessed the participation of 14 enthusiastic students, who showcased remarkable knowledge and competitive spirit in identifying and analyzing global currencies through challenging quiz questions. The interactive format kept all participants engaged, encouraging quick thinking, sharp observation, and effective decision-making under time constraints.

The competition was structured to test both fundamental understanding and practical application of knowledge. Participants navigated through rounds that included hints, multiple-choice challenges, and scenario-based questions linking currencies to trade, economy, and historical contexts. This not only evaluated their memory and awareness but also their analytical and problem-solving skills, making the activity both educational and stimulating.

After an exciting and closely contested session, Anusha B and Amrutha emerged as the winners, demonstrating exceptional strategy, accuracy, and knowledge of global financial systems. The event fostered a spirit of healthy competition and teamwork, with participants motivating and learning from each other throughout the session.

The final round successfully combined learning with fun, providing a platform for MBA students to test their knowledge of global currencies while enjoying a lively and intellectually stimulating environment. The activity highlighted the Finance Club's commitment to enhancing practical financial literacy and nurturing confident, globally informed professionals.
